Solid Waste Regulations Become Stricter Legislative package passed today by Senate

LANSING—Solid waste regulations and inspections of landfills and transported waste will increase, state Sen. Jason Allen (R-Traverse City) announced today after the Senate overwhelmingly passed a 14-bill bipartisan package.

“This package will help keep inappropriate waste from being disposed of in Michigan’s landfills,” Allen said.

Allen added that the package will protect Michigan citizens from public health threats and encourage residents to recycle.

The bills include the following key provisions:

- Authorizes the state Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) to establish a statewide inspection program, which would mandate at least four inspections each year of each landfill to ensure compliance. Random inspections would also be conducted to help ensure compliance.
- Starting Oct. 1, 2004, landfills would be required to refuse waste, regardless of its source, that did not meet Michigan’s stringent waste standards.
- Adds two important new landfill bans—beverage containers and whole tires—to further reduce reliance on landfills and encourage recycling.
- Grants the DEQ director emergency power to prohibit any waste shipment that poses a threat to the public’s health or safety or to the safety of the environment.
- Adds new fines, of up to $25,000 per day, for violating certain laws related to disposing of waste in landfills.
- Mandates a 2-year moratorium on issuing certain new landfill permits.
- Two resolutions urge Congress to act to allow states to control the flow and deposit of out-of-state waste.

“The Michigan Legislature will move forward to carry out the will of the vast majority of its citizens,” Allen said. “These bills were designed to protect our environment, not discriminate against interstate commerce.”
